

you're
unchained
when...

a live unchained collab project

How do you know you're unchained?

For our latest online collab project, we asked the Live Unchained community to finish this sentence:

You're unchained when...

Our followers liberated the twittersphere and blogosphere with their thoughts. Later, illustrators and designers made images inspired by your comments on our blog, and using the hashtag #youreunchainedwhen. Some were their own radical muses, creating their own visuals and lines.

Thanks to everyone who participated for being an inspiration!

Much love,

Kathryn and Miriam

You know you're unchained
when you become immune
to the "hater look"
...the judgmental
disapproving gaze of
small thinkers.
